THOSE GEORGIA DEMOCRATS

The Georgia Democracy for several years has had a chronic case of political appendicitis, according to The Augusta Chronicle. At the recent meeting of the Democratic State Convention in Atlanta it was decided that surgical operation was necessary and the vermiform appendix was cut out. In other words, Tom Watson, who has been fighting both State and National Democracy inside the party for a number of years, was read out of the party. The influence of the staunch old Democratic Augusta Chronicle, had much to do in bringing about this result. It is to be hoped Georgia Democracy may entirely recover from the effect of the disease that has long preyed upon her vitals, now that the appendix has been removed. May she live long and prosper. And may the premium on lynching be abolished along with the appendix.

Santee, Wateree and Congaree got an appropriation from Congress with all ease. All "e's.
See!

The Louisville Courier-Journal boils down Senator Root's long speech into three lines. "The Republican party wants to return to power at any price."

Members of the Oklahoma legislature got into a free-for-all fight using inkstands for weapons. One was rendered unconscious in the melee.

After May 1st liquor cannot be advertised in Georgia in newspapers, periodicals or bill boards. Now if lynching could be eliminated in Georgia as easily, how happy she would be!

The Republicans in an effort to make an issue to defeat the Democrats talk at random and talk wildly. For instance, some of them say we ought to fight Mexico and we ought to fight Germany and in the next breath they say "we have no army."
"We have no navy." Oh, "such inconglomerations," as Mrs.
Partington would say.

The Lyles bill, providing for at least thirty days chain-gang sentence for every man convicted of selling liquor in South Carolina, has been signed by Governor Manning and is now the law.
There is to be no fine. The law says for the first offense the sentence shall be six months to two years, and for the second offense the penalty is one to five years at discretion of the Judge.

Senator Root's speech at the New York Republican State Convention was evidently a bid for the Presidential nomination. But as Roosevelt has forestalled that job Root might take second place. Roosevelt, Root and Ruin would be the proper slogan for the Republican campaign, or it might be Root hog or die.

One of the greatest victories of the Allies is the capture of Erzerum by the Russians. Erzerum is the gateway to Asia. It is the political center of the Armenian people. It will be a great relief for the Armenians to be freed from Turkish rule and the military advantage of the victory is very great as it enables the British to cooperate with the Russians and that will settle Turkey's harsh in that quarter.

Congress gave South Carolina these appropriations in a rivers and harbor bill: Wingah bay $100,000; Charleston harbor $80, 000, including the completion of a 28 foot channel to the sea; Santee, Wateree and Congaree rivers up to Columbia, $55,000 That's not so bad, considering the fight on the bill. An when Hon W. F. Stevenson reaches Washington we shall expect to see Congress spending like amounts for the improvement of public roads that runs right by the homes of the farmers.

THE HORIZON'S ENCHANTMENT

Ralph Waldo Emerson somewhere says:

"The moment we set sail romance leaves our ship and settles on every sail on the horizon." Perhaps there is no experience more universal to the human race than the enchantment of distance, whether it be of time or place.

The good days are the old days or else in the distant future.

Rarely can one be found to say, "These are good days; the work that I am now doing is ideal, and deserves the best that is in me; that which is at hand commands my chief interest."

Now it seems to us and has for a long time seemed so, that in no realm of endeavor is this fascination of the distance so strong as in that highest and noblest of all realms of activity, the religious.

A dear friend of the editor's was serving a good charge in his native State, Mississippi, but he needs must give up home and friends, leave the black belt of Mississippi and go to Africa to teach the darkies. Another ministerial friend must leave the mountains of Kentucky and travel all the way to India to find those who needed his ministration.

While in New York City only recently our own Methodist Church must take up a collection and fill barrels with provisions and clothing for the negroes of South Carolina, while white people were starving and freezing across the street from the church building.

And then as we come down to South Carolina we find the foreign missionary spirit very mechanical and ever ready to kindle into a flame of enthusiasm and zeal (as it should be), but our own industrial home crying for food and raiment, our orphan children improperly nourished and apparently none cares.

There are cases in this county crying to heaven for succor, but they are too near to be heard or seen.

Our home missions, such as they are, are more interested in Alaska, the far west, in Honolulu and the Philippines.

Oh, that God would take pity on our own needy cases, and move them off to the horizon!
Then we would build homes for the homeless; then we would lift up the fallen and care for the dying.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes long ago gave currency to the idea that we're all more or less insane each in his own way.
Now Prof. Lew Wallin, of the Psychological Clinic of St. Louis says that most of us are feeble-minded. But, of course, there are exceptions—yourself, for instance.—The Augusta Chronicle.
Thanks! That's just how we feel about it.

The Torrens System

The registration of land titles, as provided in the bill by Messrs.
Carey, H. H. Harris, and L. M.
Rogers, recently enacted, is voluntary on the part of the petitioner. Once secured, however, the title bearing the seal of the state cannot be questioned; or if questioned, no additional expense is incurred by the holder who is protected under an assurance fund. To register a title under this Torrens system a holder of land must petition the court of common pleas, which is given competent jurisdiction in the matter. The petition must be accompanied by a list of all persons interested in the land for which a title is desired, including the names of the adjoining owners. This petition is then referred to three or more licensed attorneys, who have been appointed by the clerk of court as examiners of title. If the title appears to be good, summonses are issued through the sheriff on all parties named in the petition, thereby making them defendants. Advertisement in a newspaper is also required. If any of the defendants file an answer then a hearing is held by the examiner of titles, who must render a decision within 30 days.
If any defendant files a disclaimer it relinquishes him and all persons thereafter claiming under him. Right of appeal is granted. Upon a title being declared valid, the register of mesne conveyances files the original certificate in the county book for such land registration and issues a duplicate to the petitioner. The owner of the land then pays one-tenth of 1 per cent of the assessed value of the land for taxation for an assurance fund, out of which the owner may secure compensation in case of grievances arising. "Every decree rendered shall bind the land and bar all persons claiming title thereto or interest therein," the bill provides.
"Shall quit the title thereto and shall be forever binding and conclusive upon and against all persons, including the state of South Carolina, whether mentioned by name in the order of publication or included under the general description, 'to whom it may concern.' It shall not be an exception to such con-clusiveness that the person is an infant, lunatic or is under any disability." The act becomes effective May 1, 1916. — The State.
